Around the Square

BY SANCHE PANZA

City Judge John C. Mead, who needs only a horse and saddle bags to make him a prototype of the circuit judge of the old west travelling from court to court in the name of justice, has a way with courtroom battles.

A couple of one-time friends were in his East Los Angeles justice court the other day violently arguing over a $10 difference in their figurings of a bill. John said Joe owed him $100 but had paid only $90. Joe said the bill was only supposed to be $90.

Judge Mead heard their arguments and then took them to task for wasting the court's time with such a petty personal argument.

To straighten it out, the judge suggested Joe give $10 to the March of Dimes. John thought this over and decided it was a good decision. He told the judge that he would add $5 of his own to the $10 that Joe kicked through.

So the March of Dimes got $15. Judge Mead got a case off his docket. And Joe and John, who had been estranged over the financial trouble, became friends again.

The Wistaria Vine's publicity man, who is exerting his noggin these days to think of a descriptive adjective to take the place of age-worn "world-famed" and "world famous" in writing of the vine, thinks that flower lovers should have flower signs and pointers.

Because the Wistaria vine is hidden in the far away corner of town (but still only a hop from the Red Car line, he says), a little more imagination should be used in directing visitors.

He suggests that a wire, like a trolley line, be installed the length of Sierra Madre boulevard and up the streets leading to the Wistaria Gardens on Carter avenue. Then somewhere along the line a Wistaria vine should be planted.

The vine would be trained to travel along the wire and the blossoms developed, by some young Luther Burbank, we suppose, to "make like arrows pointing the way."

As the vine itself made headway these center-of-street trolley wires could be extended in all directions—to Pasadena, Monrovia, Temple City, etc. And to carry it to the logical conclusion, the vine and the wires and the blossoms, all "making like arrows pointing the way," would someday stretch across the whole Ew-Ess-Ay and finally to every country of this world.

Boy! It would wow 'em! It would bring 'em here in droves! You wouldn't be able to miss the place.

Last Saturday was Lincoln's birthday, and the banks closed and the schools during the week had special programs in commemoration. One young lad, a charge of Mr. Skutt's kindergarten, proudly announced that April-ham Lincoln was his favorite president.

And speaking of favorites, he let it be known that one of the best fairy stories was named Handsome and Griddle. His top cowboy character is Wild Bill Hiccup.

Nobody knows just what to make of it, but the county library's child expert reports that a generation ago kids wanted school-day stories. They "progressed" then to mystery stories and then went in for career stories. Times have changed, however, they now ask for books on minority problems, she said. That calls for a long Hmmm.

Seek Efficiency in Rubbish Pickups

BY ARTHUR HEWITT

Rubbish Collector Ben Kazarian, who holds a contract with the city to pickup burnables this week was pulled over the coals by Water and Street Superintendent Howard Brod because of inadequate service.

Brod sent a letter to Kazarian asking that the quality of service be improved immediately.

He said that complaints from irate homeowners have been mounting and that the "cost of handling these complaints is becoming prohibitive."

At the same time that Brod sent his letter to Kazarian he received a letter addressed to Mayor Steinberger from Kazarian's attorney Maynard B. Henry.

Henry said that the man Kazarian placed in charge of field operations had not adequately gauged the size of the job and thus had provided inadequate equipment. Consequently, this man was replaced and additional men and equipment "supplied for the actual operations required," Henry added.

In at least one area of the city no rubbish has been picked up since the beginning of December when Kazarian's first run was made. Since then complaints have poured into Brod's office.

Following is Brod's letter: "In connection with the contract entered into by you and the City of Sierra Madre for the collection of combustible rubbish, there has been an extraordinarily excessive number of complaints regarding the service rendered.

"We are calling your attention to this matter so that you may make a special effort to improve the service and thus remove the cause of these complaints which have arisen since

Brotherhood Week To Be Observed

National observance of Brotherhood Week will begin Sunday. The week is set aside and designated for promotion of a consciousness of intergroup, inter-faith and inter-American democracy.

The purpose of Brotherhood Week is to dramatize and stimulate a year round program of education for intergroup understanding and better human relations in business, social and political life.

"Brotherhood is giving to others the rights and respect that you want for yourself," said Willard Goslin, superintendent to page eight—

Social Worker Takes Needed Rest

Mrs. Lillian Young Clark is home after a three week rest at the Glendale Sanatorium. She came home last Thursday. Mrs. Clark with the Los Angeles Charities says that proposition No. 4 didn't help any. The work has been greatly increased.

HUNTINGTON DRIVE MAY BECOME SUPER HIGHWAY

Development of Huntington Drive as a super express highway which would rival even the Arroyo Seco as a route to Los Angeles, this week looked like a possibility.

Such a proposal was outlined in a report of the Los Angeles County Traffic Committee report to the Board of Supervisors. The Committee said that if the P. E. rail lines were abandoned, as proposed by P. E., major alterations would be possible.

If the rails are abandoned, the P. E. right of way could be cut to road level, thus making Huntington Drive one of the widest highways in the state, the report said.

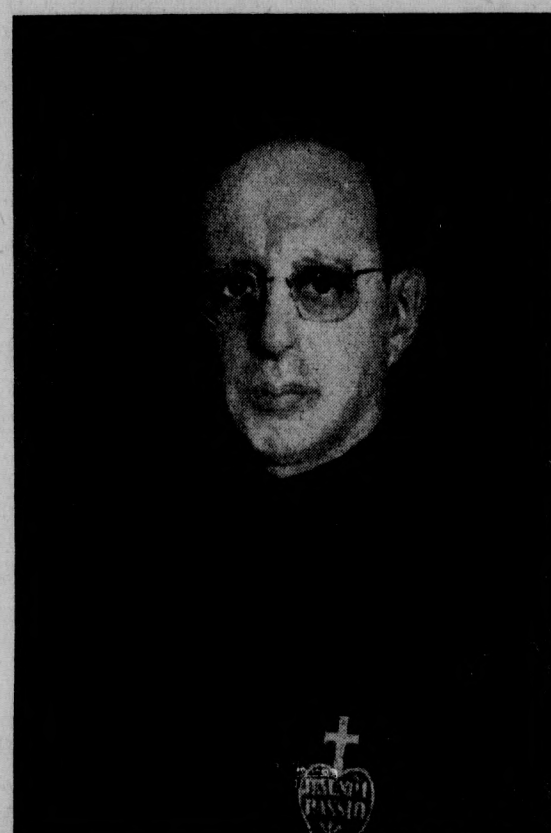

Osti Nursery Opening Saturday

The opening of the new Osti Landscape Nursery, 320 West Sierra Madre Blvd., early Saturday morning, will see the realization of a life long ambition. Since boyhood, brothers, Marino, 32, and Robert Osti, 25, have wanted their own nursery.

They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Osti, who have lived at 271 Grove, for 26 years. And during those years they have gained a fine reputation as landscape gardeners.

The Osti brothers plan to do landscape gardening and carry a complete line of nursery stock.

Senor Drudis was born in Avinyo, Spain, in 1890 and began studying art at the age of 12. His works, including portraits and landscapes, are owned in Madrid, Barcelona, Boston, New York, London, Paris, Chicago and Los Angeles, and also hang in many museums.

He graduated from the Barcelona School of Fine Arts at 26 and with a friend left Barcelona for Madrid. They spent many months traveling and painting.

Senor Drudis had his first exhibit in Madrid, following another painting trip to South.

NATIONAL GUARD WAITS FOR CITIZEN APPROVAL

Suspension of plans to build a National Guard armory here can be lifted and construction started immediately.

This was pointed out Tuesday by Major General Daniel Hudelson, commanding general of the 40th Infantry Division, California National Guard.

He said, however, that he wanted concrete evidence that the residents of Sierra Madre will support the armory in its proposed location.

"Primarily, I am interested in being assured that if the armory is built in the east end of town that the citizens

NEXT COUNCIL MEETING
Next meeting of the City Council will be held Wednesday, February 23. The regular Tuesday meeting was put over because of the holiday, Washington's birthday.

will support that location," he told the NEWS.

Last week Colonel Carl H. Aulick, National Guard operations and training officer, declared that the armory plans were temporarily suspended because of pending further organizational changes.

General Hudelson said, however, that the "reorganization of the 40th Division has progressed to the point where additional changes will not affect the Sierra Madre unit or the proposed armory for the city."

Money for the armory, which will cost about $100,000, has been appropriated and the site (a 300-foot square section of the city-owned "water land" on East Sierra Madre boulevard) has been approved by the State Department of Finance, he said.

"I am satisfied with the site," he added. "And I prefer it to the other (a part of the park property on West Sierra Madre boulevard adjacent to the club house), because it gives us more room."

General Hudelson pointed to the fact that 1600 persons had signed a petition last fall asking that the proposed armory be located on the park site. This request was turned down by the City Council.

The Council then countered with an offer of the site adjoining the Youth Hut. General Hudelson said he did not think this too far from the center of town, an idea that had been promoted during hectic Council sessions last fall.

"I think that with the establishment of an armory down there it will be an asset to the town. The state Adjutant General concurs in approval of the site," he said.

"But I need concrete evidence that the people of Sierra Madre want it there. We are ready to go as soon as we get that assurance."

"You've got a good Guard unit out there, one that is a credit to Sierra Madre, and we are prepared to give them and the city the armory building."

PASADENA ETERA

DOG AND PARKING WOES CAUSE TRAFFIC MISHAPS

A big dog and the shoebox-sized parking space on Kersting Court gave trouble to automobile drivers.

Mrs. Jewel D. Murphy, 532 Audubon Way, was driving east on Sierra Madre boulevard last Saturday, and in swerving to avoid a dog in the street, her car assertedly tangled with one driven by Alton Tydings Reese, 3353 Los Alivos Lane, La Crescenta. Reese was driving west.

Both cars left the scene with dents on the left sides. Citations were not issued to either driver, since the evidence showed no negligence on the part of either party.

On Monday, Arnold J. D. Hooper, 140 Roosevelt avenue, Pasadena, attempted to back out of a parking space on Kersting Court just as Carl Frederic Adams, 93 North Canon avenue, attempted to drive into the space next to Hooper's car. The car driven by Adams ended up with a bent right rear fender and Hooper's car with a bent left front fender.

It was pointed out that present supplies are far less than are required, that the city has been carrying out a water conservation program and that no other water is available.

This same water which shoots out of the mountains via the Big Santa Anita eventually flows to the ocean and is lost. By diverting it to the city spreading grounds, it would be

CITY FILES WITH STATE TO MEET ANNUAL DEFICIT

BY ARTHUR HEWITT

Sierra Madre's water problem—the biggest nervous headache that has ever faced the city—this week was on the verge of being solved for all time.

Councilman Herman Barter and City Engineer Howard W. Brod announced that the city had filed with the State Division of Water Resources for a portion of "flood flow" water that pours from the Santa Anita Canyon.

If the State approves this diversion of water, which would be put into the city spreading grounds during the winter and pumped back out during the dry summer season, it would make available for Sierra Madre's use an additional 3000 acre feet of water.

As a comparison, the city now needs about 2000 acre feet of water. It has available only 1688 acre feet a year which comes from its share of East Raymond Basin water and the mountain tunnels.

Brod said that in filing with the State for permission to divert the Big Santa Anita water, measured and allowed to sink into the East Raymond Basin. By determining the amount that the city put into the basin, Sierra Madre would be allowed to withdraw by pump as needed.

It had originally been proposed that Sierra Madre and Ar-

"Founders Day" for Pasadena Council Observed Here

February is the month designated by the many councils of the P-TA as Founders Month. All meetings held during the month are Founders Day meetings, and programs are based on the theme of the founding of the P-TA.

The Sierra Madre Grammar School was chosen by the Pasadena Council of Parents and Teachers as the location for their important yearly Founders Day meeting held last Monday, and the Sierra Madre P-TA group were hosts.

Intervisting allows the groups to become better acquainted with the work of each school P-TA, and the work of the Council also becomes clearer to each school P-TA.

The auditorium of the school was well filled Monday and the group heard committee reports and a panel discussion led by three past presidents: Mrs. Seymour Johnson, Mrs. Max Colwell and Mrs. Lawrence Sutherland.

The subject discussed was P-TA work in Council, District and State levels. The Sierra Madre Board members were hostesses at the luncheon served in the cafeteria. Traditional birthday cake in honor of Founders Day was served.

"Our Founders Built Well" was the theme chosen for the Founders Day P-TA meeting. The regular February meeting is slated for today (Thursday) at 1:30 p. m. The potluck luncheon was to be followed by a program of music led by Mrs. Elsie S. Higgins.

Plans included square dancing and instrumental groups. The Life-Membership choice was to be revealed during the afternoon.

Luncheon hostesses chosen were third and fourth grade mothers: Mrs. Kenneth Pickett, Mrs. William Olcott, Mrs. M. R. Kunihiro, Mrs. John Butah, Mrs. Lawrence Appleford, Mrs. Abe Weston and several other mothers assisted.

High School Election For New Arcadia District Is Denied

Arcadia—The State Board of Education has recently denied "without prejudice" Arcadia's petition to conduct an election for establishment of its own high school district at a hearing held in Los Angeles.

Reason for the denial, the board pointed out, was that the State Commission on School Districts will in the near future conduct a survey to study the needs of the M.A.D. District.

Judge Herbert L. Porter, member of the Board of Trustees of the Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte High School made the presentation for the local board. He informed the state group that application had already been made for a survey to be conducted in the local school district, by the State Commission on Redistricting.

The Board felt that if it permitted the election to proceed it might change the status of the District while another state agency is studying its problems.

Future Petition Possible

After completion of the commission's survey, Arcadia may again petition the State Board to authorize an election. Gilbert H. Jerberg of Fresno, member of the State Board of Education which recently heard Arcadia's petition, is chairman of the State Commission on School Districts now conducting the survey.

While denial of the Arcadia election petition was based on completion and findings of the survey, apparently another factor entering into the board's action was the haste with which the matter of withdrawal from the M.A.D. District has been pushed, the election having been planned for Jan. 21, had the petition been granted, only three months after the withdrawal agitation was started.

The State Board members stated that it was not a matter to be rushed, and that an emergency would be the only justifiable cause for the early election date.

Bonebrake No. 1 Good

"Bonebrake No. 1 in Production" is the large head lines in the Ventura County Star-Free Press of recent date. It has reference to the newest discovery in the Fillmore area oil. It is the first well on the property of Bonebrake of this city. The well came in and has been pumping more than 320 barrels a day.

The nearly straight up and down rock cliffs defied modern machinery but Sam P. Mullen, superintendent and his crews found a way to install the pipeline. The pipe was snaked up the trail by horse a length at a time.

It is said that discovery of oil in the new pool at Bonebrake No. 1 will bring extensive activity back to the Little Sespe.

Don't Pass Up the Biggest Story Of the Year - - It's Water!

The biggest local story of the year appears in this issue of the News. It's not only worth your study but it's worth your appreciation.

WATER in Sierra Madre was getting to the level of Weather—everybody talks about it, but nobody does anything about it.

Doing something about water, however, became a crusade with Councilman Herman Barter. And it paid off—or will pay off.

It was he who enlisted, on your behalf, the technical assistance of City Engineer Howard Brod. And the two of them performed a coup d'etat. What they did was something that had been talked about and discussed and kicked around ever since the city felt the pinch of water shortage.

With initiative and foresight and technical know-how, they sought a means of working out a joint project with Arcadia to capture the water that moves each winter from the Santa Anita Canyon through channels to the sea.

The joint project Arcadia now would like desperately to see worked out, although prior to Sierra Madre's awakening it had kept itself at arm's length, presumably because it had no great or immediate water pinch and because it felt it held the upper hand in the Santa Anita water claims.

But the joint project is out—because it would mean only a half-way measure for Sierra Madre.

It became a full-way measure by the mere expediency of filing alone for water that we can use and that no one else now uses.

Why is this an important story?

Simply because if this claim is approved, Sierra Madre will have no more water worries. It will have water for growth and expansion. It will have enough water available to invite the upper Hastings ranch to join the city, if the city so wishes.

There will be no need of disincorporation for want of water or of annexing itself to another town—Arcadia, for example.

There will be no need of bending our knees to the Metropolitan Water District to take us into the fold—at an exorbitant cost.

It is hard to see how the State can refuse Sierra Madre this just claim.

We tip our Masthead—a newspaper's hat—to Mr. Barter and Mr. Brod. They have done this city a great service.

Until Barter came along nobody did anything but talk about it. If you don't believe that go to the newspaper files of July and August, 1928, and read of hearings then to get some of the Big Santa Anita water that was even then running into the ocean.

NATIONAL GUARD OFFICERS WAIT ON CITIZENS FOR ARMORY SITE APPROVAL

The question often asked, "What about the Armory?" was answered last week by the News.

The statement that plans were suspended pending organizational changes in the National Guard throughout the area came from Sacramento.

Now, however, the commanding general of the 40th Infantry Division has announced that the Armory can be built here at any time. Inasmuch as the site at the east end of town has been approved and the money is available, Major General Daniel Hudelson has the final say, and he has said it.

Throughout the proceedings, which became pretty hot on the local level, General Hudelson gave every indication that he wanted to be fair. He wanted a site that was, first, suitable to the National Guard and, second, acceptable to the people and the City Council.

To review the question: The people of the city believed that unless the Council deeded the undeveloped section of the Park land to the state for an Armory, no Armory would be built. In fear of losing an Armory altogether, 1600 persons signed a petition seeking councilmanic approval of the Park site.

On the other side: it was pointed out that this Park site was the only available land for extension of park facilities and recreation for younger children. It was proposed that the "water land" site be offered to the National Guard.

This was done, and it was accepted.

In conjunction with its offer to the Guard, the Council proposed that the entire dump area, adjacent to the land offered the State for the Armory, be developed for recreation.

There was little disagreement among the residents here once it was determined that the Guard would take the time to investigate the alternative site. There was no audible complaint or protest when it was announced that the site was acceptable.

And there should be none, because the site is ideally suited to a highly developed recreation area. Because Sierra Madre is small, it is readily accessible to everyone.

As for the proposed Armory, "the sooner the better."

How "sooner" it shall be, however, depends upon the people of the town and the City Council.

At its next meeting the Council should call for a public hearing, to be held at its next successive meeting—March 8—to determine sentiment on the Armory's location.

It should then notify General Hudelson of this sentiment.

In addition, the residents of this city should write to the City Council prior to that date and indicate their interest in the proposed Armory and the proposed site.

To expedite construction of the Armory, it is essential that the Council push this matter through to an immediate conclusion.

Much Food for Thought at Kiwanis Tuesday Meet

Two distinguished Eastern Kiwanians were guests of the local Kiwanis Club Tuesday at the noon-time luncheon held at the Woman's Club: Geo. F. Nugent, immediate past governor of his area, Yonkers, N.Y., and Fred R. Mitzinger, past president of Rochester, N.Y., Kiwanis.

"Proper handling of a product is as important as the product itself" was the subject of the talk given by Fred Williams, Southern Division Manager of Pennzoil Company. He was introduced by the program chairman, Roy Pickett.

Dr. Earl Gossard, president, reminded his fellow club members that California was observing "Heart Disease Prevention" this week in connection with the national program. Dr. Gossard pointed out that prevention of heart disease is of the utmost importance. He spoke especially of the rheumatic fever so often leaving children with a diseased heart. He stated that bad hearts in children, caused from rheumatic fever, were responsible for more deaths each year than polio, scarlet fever, whooping cough and measles put together.

FIRE FLAMES

One fire call during the past week. One that proved that our constant advice about poor wiring and improper fuses in the fuse box, is not all imagination. Electric wires are one of the safest parts of equipment used about the house, if used with proper caution and discretion. Electric wires correctly installed are a necessity. Those who are not acquainted with the powers of electricity should never attempt to do their own wiring, nor continue to add more appliances to wiring without the advice of an electrician or other authority.

Small twisted lamp cords that have become dry and aged are much better in the scrap heap. Insulation on such wires has become parched and cracked. This allows a possible arc that in turn will cause fire. Housewives are very much inclined to add more load to an already overloaded circuit and is it the advice and earnest request of the Fire Department that the ladies of the houses, seek the advice of an electrician who is qualified to inform her of the limit load. An overloaded wire will become hot and the result is serious. Electricity is not dangerous. No more so than any other utility or fuel. ALL MUST be properly handled. The old style of forming a network of wires from a single attachment is passe and has been the cause of many serious fires in the past. We can avoid fires from this source by having better wiring done. It is advice worth heeding. Let's do it.

The men of the fire department have finally ended the much publicized drill contest. Even the decision of the Judges has been contested. And yet the Norris Crew has arranged, as the losers, to feed the Udell Crew, the winners, to a complete dinner, to-morrow evening. There are no vacant seats expected. Because all of Sierra Madre's fire fighters will be in attendance, it may be necessary to have fire department connections to the Woman's Club-house where the affair will occur. A fire truck at the door will not be out of place. It is hoped, however, that the dinner will not be disturbed by a fire call. The big dinner will be paid for from the pockets of the losers, so in order that the winners get their money's worth, a price limit has been set. The winners saw to that.

The annual election of Officers of the Fire Department was held at the "Quarters" last Friday evening. Jim Heasley was elected Chief, Charlie Brown, Secretary, and Mercer Duff as Treasurer. These three officers are voted on annually. This will be a new duty for Mercer Duff. Because Joe Swanson resigned as Secretary some time ago, Brown, who was also Treasurer has been filling the position until the election. He is now the official secretary. A liberal donation to the March of Dimes was also voted. Following the hurried meeting, a very sociable evening was spent in the rooms. Card games, pool and piano music. Spears, Heasley, Grippi wore smiles after the card game, while Tyler, Clark and Duff went home without much to wear. All declared that there is a great day coming, or "every dog has his day" or something like that.

In order that we may have another good year of low fire losses, we must go into that same old routine of FIRE PREVENTION. This can only be accomplished by the amiable cooperation of residents. We must use all necessary precaution and remove all fire hazards from the premises. When outdoor open burning is to be done, call the fire department. We'll be happy to help with the matter. (There are times when we will do it for you.) That's sayin' a lot but circumstances alter cases. Let's keep the FIRES OUT.

Seek Water

Arcadia file jointly for the water diversion. The stickler, however, was that Arcadia has no spreading grounds and thus could not make use of the water. A similar joint project proposal fell through more than ten years ago.

Arcadia currently proposed that Sierra Madre deed half of its spreading grounds to Arcadia. This the city was unwilling to do.

Brod carried out a survey of the spreading grounds and water needs and found that there was not enough spreading grounds for the two cities.

For this reason, Sierra Madre, through the efforts of Barter and Brod, filed alone for the Big Santa Anita water.

In explaining this step to Arcadia in a letter to its city attorney, Brod said:

"The water shortage is so acute in Sierra Madre that unless some relief is forthcoming we will be faced with the possibility of either disincorporating, annexing to another municipality or joining the Metropolitan Water District."

He pointed out, however, that the chance of joining the Metropolitan Water District was remote since membership—even at exceedingly high cost—is not now open to Sierra Madre. Cost of the project, if approved by the State, would run as high as $200,000.

A diversion dam would have to be built in the upper part of Santa Anita Canyon just below the present dam. From this a 30-inch pipeline would have to be laid to the spreading grounds and a measuring device installed.

It was the cost of this project that Arcadia proposed to share—but for which it asked a deed to half the city's spreading grounds.

Brod, in his letter, told Arcadia that "aside from the questionable legality of such a proceeding, it was felt to be an unjust arrangement for Sierra Madre. Arcadia interests pointed out that their participation in a joint project, without protection to assure them of an adequate spreading area, would be untenable."

Sierra Madre's city engineer then reported the result of his study of the entire problem. He said the diversionary flow available was 60 cubic feet per second—or approximately 3000 acre feet a season.

"In analyzing the problem of spreading the diverted flow from Santa Anita, I discovered that the Sierra Madre spreading grounds would be wholly inadequate," Brod pointed out.

(He said that one acre of area is needed to spread two cubic ft. per second of flow. There are 22 acres in the city spreading grounds, but 7 acres are needed for spreading water from Sierra Madre Canyon and city street runoff.)

(On the remaining 15 acres only 30 cubic feet per second could be spread—half of the amount available. And under a joint project Sierra Madre would get only half or 15 cubic feet per second—a total of 750 acre feet "and since this is far less than is required for Sierra Madre's present and ultimate development, it is concluded that it would be better for Sierra Madre to join the Metropolitan Water District than to make the large expenditure necessary for this project which would only partially satisfy Sierra Madre's requirements.")

Brod said that it was finally concluded that the only way that Sierra Madre could participate in a diversion project would be on a separate basis.

"Several attempts were made to arrange another meeting between the two cities without success," he said in his letter. "We considered it advisable to file because of impending legislation regarding filing of water rights Mayor Steinberg."

er reported that he had been unable to arrange a meeting with Mayor Russell."

Brod pointed out that "this move on our part was a matter of real necessity as the only other source of water in addition to present inadequate facilities."

It was Councilman Barter who was instrumental in bringing about the joint meeting of the two City Councils which discussed the project. At the same time he explored the possibility of securing other water to eliminate the city's growing annual deficit.

A letter was received this week from the Water Resources Division's supervising hydraulic engineer, Walter Stoddard. He said further action on the petition would be forthcoming.

Brod explained that after the highly technical application is filed and processed, a 60-day period is set during which other cities or governmental agencies may file objections to the claim. After the claim has been approved, the right to withdraw water does not become permanent for five years.

Then, if the water is not used beneficially for a period of three years the water right is lost.

In past years Sierra Madre lost rights to water from tunnels and other sources because of this lack of use.

Brod explained the Big Santa Anita water is of no use to Arcadia in the absence of spreading grounds. Sierra Madre's use of the water would benefit Arcadia, however, he said, in that this amount of water would raise the basin level and reduce that city's pumping costs.

Woman's Club Greet Federation Officers

"Federation and friendship are synonymous," declared Mrs. Joseph Wenger, District Woman's Club County Federation President at the Sierra Madre Woman's Club last week.

The Sierra Madre Woman's Club was host to almost 20 County and District Presidents of Federated Clubs in the County. About 90 members and guests attended. This is the largest district in California with 218 clubs and 28,000 members. The combined clubs accomplish much in welfare work and civic matters.

Lee Shippey, sage of Sierra Madre, was the luncheon speaker. He discussed the days of '49, since this is the 100th anniversary. He pointed out the fact that the gold rush days of '49 did more than anything else, in his opinion, in bringing California into the Union over the opposition from the East.

Miss Elizabeth Steinberger presented Lee Shippey. Mrs. Frank M. Ward, County Federation President told of the many advantages to both the club and its members in Federation in her talk on "Why Federate."

Decorations throughout the Clubhouse were carried out in Valentine motif. Mrs. Caroline Wilson was decoration chairman. Large red paper hearts were surrounded with heather borders and all luncheon tables were decorated in red hearts and flowers.

There was no business meeting at the Federation day meeting of the Woman's Club.

At the next regular meeting of the Woman's Club February 23 at the Clubhouse, at 2 p. m., George Tyree will sing. His repertoire includes many well known selections from the works of Haydn, Tchaikovsky, Purcell and Scarlatti. Accompanist will be Orvena Davis Athay.

SHORT STOP

Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Gearhart found it necessary to move to Artesia after only six weeks stay in their newly-built home, 340 Sycamore Place. Two young bachelors are reportedly renting the Gearhart residence here.

Style Show Luncheon Announced by Civic Club Committee

The ways and means committee of the Civic Club, headed by Mrs. Chas. Rizzo is giving the annual Spring Style Show and luncheon at the Woman's Clubhouse, Friday, February 25 at 12:30. The affair will be a buffet luncheon followed by bridge.

The Frances Scott Shop will show the styles presented by Civic Club and Mariner Scout models.

Bethany Mariner Dinner Meeting

Married couples of Bethany Church, the Mariner group, met recently for dinner and games at the church Fellowship Hall. At this time seven new couples were installed, raising the ranks to 60.

A SURPRISE

Newcomers to Sierra Madre, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Pawlacyk and family, are reported to have had a temporary lake under their house Monday.

Having just built their home, 360 Sycamore Place, they naturally were surprised to find the main water pipe joints had burst and flooded under the house.

A plumber soon restored things to order and no serious damage was done.

Traditional Shrove Tuesday Custom Moves to Clubhouse

The old English custom of serving pancakes on Shrove Tuesday the day before Ash Wednesday, will be continued this year by the John Ruskin Chapter of Daughters of the British Empire.

For 1949, however, the event will be held between 8 a. m. and 2:30 p. m., Monday, February 28, at the Woman's Clubhouse.

The local celebration began some years ago when Mrs. Mary W. Pulling invited a few friends to her home for a pancake luncheon, and gave the proceeds to the British Old People's Home. It proved such a success that for every year following the John Ruskin Chapter has held this benefit.

PTA TAKES TO RADIO TALKS

The PTA has added another to its long list of fields to conquer—radio broadcasting. The District PTA announced today that two programs over radio station KAGH are in the offing.

"These programs, as all PTA work, are planned to show people that active participation in the PTA means better schools, better homes and a better community," said Mrs. E. W. Russell, District Council chairman of publicity.

Next Sunday, February 20, KAGH will carry at 4:30 a playlet featuring radio students from PCC under the direction of Lowell Baker, instructor.

The following Sunday, February 27, at 4:30 p. m. an interview type broadcast will star Mrs. Frank Blauvelt, Mrs. Robert Neal and Mrs. Kenneth Learned.

BY MAXINE BALLING

OH MARGARET AND DAVY JR.! This is terrible! Last December you bought a gift at the BALLING BABY SHOP and had us mail it for you to Master Jonnie Koeliger, Hanover, Mass. But you didn't have your return address on the package. . . Just "Margaret and Davy Jr." on the card. . . and the package came back. We're worried, because Jonnie didn't get his present, and because the Balling Baby Shop guarantees good value for your money, and now we have both your merchandise and your money. Hope you read this, and come and get it.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, there are youngsters who don't know what a camisole is. For their enlightenment a camisole is half a slip. . . the upper half. They're nice to wear with a peasant blouse. We have lovely camisoles sizes 10 to 16, for $1.95.

PRE-TEENS AND TEEN AGERS have plenty of problems. One is parents. Another is boys. But the real problem is to find clothes which FIT, and don't make one look like a little girl or a woman. New dresses size 10 to 16 starting to arrive at the Balling Baby Shop are STYL-ED for PRE-TEENERS and TEENERS. You'll also want to see the new blouses, skirts and sweaters for spring.

NEW SLIPS for teen are here too, (entire slips) sizes 10 to 14. Eyelet embroidery trimmed ones are 4.50. Plain, 1.95.

IN FACT there are lots of things for teens at the Balling Baby Shop. We have a big stock of Bonnie Doon hosiery (Bobby Sox) for instance. Any color you want, from 59c "Jans" to $1 nylon "Dickies" and $1.50 brushed fluffy nylons.

TWINS came to one of our customers recently, and she would like very much to buy a used twin buggy. If you have one, or know someone who has, phone or drop in and we'll get you together. I don't make any money this way, especially when advertising it. Just like to see my nice customers get what they want.

CUTEST little coats and caps for boys came in this week. The caps have those little bills about as wide as your finger. There are tweeds, blue and white checks and solid blue. Prices are $15.95 and 17.95.

ANOTHER DANDY THING FOR BOYS is the wide striped polo shirt with socks to match. The shirts are 1.50, socks 39c. There's also a combination of the polo shirt and gabardine short boxer trunks for $3.50, with extra socks to match for 39c.

NEW AND INTERESTING THINGS FOR babies and children are coming in every week now. Drop in when you're over this way. BALLING BABY SHOP, Monrovia 20411. . . (and we're open Friday Nights).

Virginia Morrison Honoree of Many Prenuptial Events

Evening services, 8 o'clock Friday, February 18, at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Altadena, will unite Miss Virginia Morrison and David Allen.

Miss Morrison, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Charles E. Morrison has been feted with two large teas recently. One reception was given in late January at the home of Miss Elizabeth Allen, cousin of the groom-to-be in Altadena; and another was given Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Arnold Praeger of Pasadena.

David Allen, assistant cashier of the Sierra Madre Bank, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold E. Allen. He now resides with an uncle, Walter Irving Allen of Altadena.

Stork Shower for Mrs. Wm. Guardia

Clever streamers and bows of pastel green, lavender and yellow, decorated the refreshment table at a stork shower Thursday evening, honoring Mrs. William Guardia (nee Sylvia Colbert) of Pasadena.

Among Sierra Madre guests present were: Mesdames Robert Evans, Val Mariotti, Bryce Tyler, James McClelland, A. A. Guardia, Ralph Van Vleet, Howard Miller and Mrs. William Rhodes of Pasadena and Misses Jane Colbert, Jean Thayer and Juanita Guardia.

Jack Graham TV Benefit Dance Saturday Night

Plans for the Television Dance, master-minded by Tiny Scalzo, for the benefit of hospitalized veteran Jack Graham were changed. The event was to have taken place last Saturday, but the changed plans now include a dance at the Woman's Clubhouse next Saturday night, February 19.

Jack Graham was recently hospitalized in a Veteran's Hospital for tuberculosis. He will be there about 18 months, say authorities. Graham lived in Sierra Madre with his wife, the former Barbara Blake, 96 East Grandview. The Grahams have just become parents of a son.

Graham spent almost four years overseas with the Army, on front line duty. Since discharge he has lived here, and had just bought his home on East Grandview.

Alan Robertson's orchestra will be on hand Saturday and Mayor Milton Steinberger and Comm. H. Yodow will officiate. Stubs of tickets already purchased and those bought during the week will be admission tickets.

From the proceeds, a television set will be placed in Jack Graham's room. Any money left over will be set up in a fund for use by Mrs. Graham.

Dance tickets are $1 and may be purchased at Tiny's Coffee Shop, Tiny's Television Shop and from other sellers. The dance begins at 8:30 and promises to give an evening of good fun as well as the satisfaction of doing a good deed.

Three S. M. Veterans Hospitalized for T. B. Treatment

American Legion activities are commanding attention in several endeavors. The initiation of members is announced for Wednesday evening March 16th in the Masonic Temple.

Chas. J. Chunn, hospital chairman will be in charge of activities Sunday, the 20th when all Posts and Auxiliaries visit the disabled at the hospitals in the district and at San Fernando.

Improvements in the Legion Dugout have been made making the hall more inviting.

Three veterans have been hospitalized during the past month, Jack Graham and Barney McCoy are at San Fernando and Jimmy Pettit at the Pomona Hospital. They are all doing well and are encouraged with their treatment but would appreciate mail from their friends.

The last meeting of Post 297, American Legion was held last night, Wednesday, Feb. 16. Motion pictures and refreshments following.

tendent of Pasadena Schools and Education Chairman for the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

In Sierra Madre, representatives of several service and social groups, religious groups and individuals have planned a program for the community.

"It was the feeling of this group that inter group understanding would naturally resolve out of a meeting of members of different religious and social groups if they could meet and enjoy one another's company as friends and neighbors," said Mrs. Kenneth Carlson, a member of the committee arranging the Sierra Madre program.

For Saturday night, February 26, this group has planned and arranged a community program to be held at Pritchard Hall at 8 p. m.

A skit entitled "Meet Your Relatives" is on the bill. Community singing and refreshments will follow.

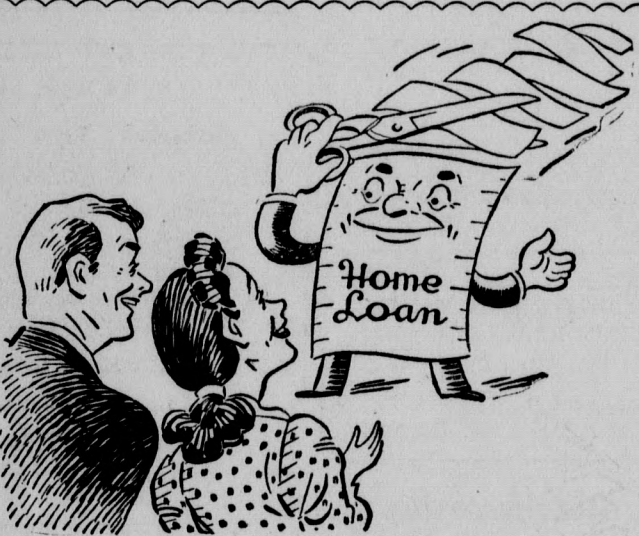

Local talent in the cast will include Dr. Nathan Jacobs, Joseph Jackson Butler, Kenneth Bush, Bill Schmidt, Henry Nuetzel, Merritt Thompson, Sam Perloff, Mrs. Ruth Schmidt, Dr. J. S. Schmidt, Mrs. Kenneth Carlson, Mrs. Nathan Jacobs, and Mrs. William Stoddard.

Mrs. Katherine Kirk will be accompanist for the entertainment and a "male chorus of outstanding merit" is yet to be selected, the organizers said.

The community night at Pritchard Hall is open to all, and no admission will be charged.

Phone Expert to Talk On Miracle of Radio

Microwaves—very high frequency radio waves—will do all sorts of tricks and obey the commands of John F. Rhame at the Civic Club's regular program meeting at the Park House next Thursday night (February 24) at 8:30.

Rhame, area staff assistant for the Pacific Telephone Company will give a special demonstration of how microwaves are used in telephone and television communications today, and the possibilities of making the little waves serve mankind.

Rhame will bring special apparatus to show how microwaves can be bent, twisted and stopped in controlling them and making them work. Microwaves do not bend to follow the earth's contours as do ordinary radio waves. They disperse after about 40 miles and must be caught and relayed again or be lost. Rhame will tell how.

Microwave communications are used for ship-to-shore and ground-to-air communications. They also carry messages from moving trains.

The Oakland-Santa Rosa microwave hookup and the New York-Boston relay are other well-known uses of this wave in telephone service.

The Civic Club sponsored demonstration will be held at the Park House at 8:30 Thursday, February 24, and is open to all.

City Workers For Defense Group

A meeting of the city employees for the organization of Sierra Madre's Disaster Council scheduled for last Friday night was moved ahead to tonight, Thursday, according to Henry Nuetzel, organizer. Fire fighting drill and instruction held last Friday was the reason. Most city employees attend fire meetings.

After organization, the city Disaster Council will affiliate with the State Disaster Council. The group is made up of volunteers who are trained and ready to stand by in any emergency. Sierra Madre is one of the last cities in the state to form such a council.

The city employees will become the nucleus for the group, since organization on a voluntary basis was disappointing, according to Nuetzel. City employees will be placed as heads of various committees and departments and they will then seek to fill needs of their committees with volunteers.

SPANISH ARTIST

ern Spain. Among royal visitors to the gallery were King Alfonso and Infanta Isabella of Spain, and Queen Victoria of England, who took a great interest in the young artist. This marked the beginning of many water color and oil exhibits for Senor Drudis.

One of his paintings done on the island of Majorca "Through The Cherry Trees" was presented to the Los Angeles Museum in 1931 in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the founding of Los Angeles. The painting is a memorial to the artist's mother, Dona Montserrat Biada de Drudis. According to the museum brochure the work "is of special interest to Californians in that it depicts the environment of the island of Majorca, Spain, where the father of California missions, Junipero Serra was born."

Senor Drudis sailed for Havana in 1924 and later the same year came to New York. He has since had many successful exhibits in this country.

In 1932 he married Senorita Amelia Dominguez, descendant of Manuel Dominguez, Spanish general, who was given a large land grant in California many years ago, by the King of Spain. Senor and Senora Drudis have made Sierra Madre their home since 1942 and reside in the former Col. Hersey estate, 575 North Hermosa.

the contract with you was made.

"The expense and time involved in handling these complaints is becoming prohibitive, and it is essential that you give this matter prompt and careful attention as required by the provisions of your contract."

"Several of the commercial establishments have gone to other means of having rubbish collected, because they can get much better service cheaper."

Attorney Henry's letter held out some hope of improvement in service. It read:

"My client, Ben Kazarian has requested that I write this letter to you for the purpose of explaining certain circumstances concerning your rubbish disposal.

"Upon accepting the contract now in existence between your city and my client, Mr. Kazarian placed the actual field operations in charge of one John Daschian.

"After operation of approximately two months, my client learned that misrepresentations had been made to him by the said John Daschian as to the amount of equipment necessary and the manpower required to perform the contract. In fact my client learned that the work was not being done in a manner satisfactory to him.

"I am sure that in very short time the work done will be most satisfactory to the city and to my client."
